

For Immediate Release
July 29, 2019

KEVIN M. HALPIN JOINS BROOKS, HOUGHTON & COMPANY, INC.

New York, NY – Brooks, Houghton & Company, Inc. (“BHC”) is pleased to announce that Kevin M. Halpin has joined the firm’s Investment Banking team as a Managing Director.

“We are excited that Kevin has joined our firm as we continue to expand our activities in Upstate New York, key surrounding regions and select area of the Midwest. His extensive experience as an investment banker, private equity professional and business executive, will be especially beneficial to our clients who will appreciate the value that Kevin adds to our team,” stated Kevin Centofanti, President, of Brooks, Houghton.

Prior to joining Brooks, Houghton, Mr. Halpin founded JTA Advisors, a firm that specializes in advisory services to middle-market companies. He also has had senior management, private equity and investment banking roles at DeltaPoint Capital Management, LLC. Kevin has experience in a wide range of industries and has advised numerous clients on M&A transactions and operational issues. He is currently a member of the Boards of Directors of Upstate Capital Association of New York and the Young Entrepreneurs Academy. In addition, Kevin is a frequent speaker and recognized thought leader on private equity, venture capital and growth strategies at events throughout Upstate New York.

Brooks, Houghton is a merchant banking firm located in New York that focuses on debt and equity financing, strategic advisory and M&A, and direct investing. The firm’s broker-dealer, Brooks, Houghton Securities, is a FINRA and SIPC member.

Corporate contact:
Kevin Centofanti, President
kcentofanti@brookshoughton.com